

"GERMANS AGAIN UNDER THE SIGN"

Army of East Prussia Falls Back Hundred Miles.

Civilian Circles Manifest Much Disquietude.

Border Inhabitants Leaving for the Interior.

BERLIN (via London) Nov. 16.—Germany again is "under the sign of the Russian danger," to quote the astrophysical metaphor frequently used by the Germans.

The combined German and Austrian armies, which, by a well-timed and well-executed change of front, and with timely reinforcements, were able to sweep through Poland to the line of the Vistula, threatening Warsaw and Lvov, and were in turn outflanked by the Russian army, and the command and have fallen back to their own trenches.

Timid inhabitants of the border regions are leaving their homes for the interior. Professional pessimists draw long faces, and a certain amount of disquietude is manifest in civilian circles in Berlin.

There are many indications, however, that the retirement before Warsaw is not that of a beaten army, but of one which, realizing that it had fallen in its object of a surprise campaign, promptly changed its strategic plan and retreated.

Predictions are hazardous, but the great news of the next fortnight may come from the armies facing on Poland's wintry fields. The common report is that Gen. von Hindenburg is ready to accept or to give battle on the new ground he has chosen.

The eighth army, entrusted with the defense of East Prussia, again has a new commander. It originally was commanded by Gen. von Prittwitz and Gaffron and passed into the hands of Gen. von Hindenburg, and Chief of Staff von Ludendorff. The new commander is Gen. von Busow, one of a family of military brothers of high rank.

The retirement from Warsaw resembles in many respects that from the environs of Paris in September, the Germans in both cases assuming the great risk of running out of ammunition and supply trains, and exposing their flank and rear, hoping to smash a supposed demoralized army. They hoped to have a surprise campaign, like Stonewall Jackson at Chancellorsville, to catch the enemy's right wing napping, roll up that portion of it west of the Vistula, and across the river and capture Warsaw.

Holding strongly the line from East Prussia, on the south to Galicia, on the south they expected to be able to stand off Russia and devote their principal attention to the western campaign.

That is why, it is said, Gen. von Hindenburg in September transferred his headquarters from Opatow to Breslau, in Silesia, acting in concert with the Austrian commander's change of front against the Russians invading Western Galicia from the north.

The Russians were on the alert, however, and did not permit the safe side of the Vistula. The only important fighting was at Opatow, on the extreme southern flank. The Russians massed their troops in a generally north-and-south line behind the Vistula. They rushed their troops by railway, but were barely in time for the Germans were actually entering one suburb of Warsaw at the same time that the Siberian troops descended in the town.

The Germans had outrun their heavy artillery, which was delayed by countless roadblocks. The reinforcements came, the fighting was desperate, and a retreat was finally ordered.

The Germans say they are as proud of this retreat as the English are of theirs at Mons.

In another respect the retirement from Warsaw is like that before Paris. The German headquarters, it is said, forgot their geography. A headquarters bulletin in Paris announced the retreat promptly, but for a fortnight it gave virtually no news of the subsequent stages, mentioning in that period only three places.

The German people were told promptly that the retreat was a tactical move, and that the army had reached Berlin in soldiers' letters and missives from the wounded that the confidence in the army was maintained. One great change is noted in these letters since this campaign began. Early in the war the enemy's ability was derided. Now the officers admit that the Russians fight bravely, that the French artillery is remarkable, and that Tommy Atkins is a first-rate fighting man.

REPEATS RUMOR OF CROWN PRINCE.

(A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.) GENEVA (Switzerland) Nov. 16.—The Gazette de Lausanne declares that it has confirmation of the report from Strasbourg that Crown Prince, Frederick William, was transported, seriously wounded, to the royal palace there by special train.

The train entered the station at night, says the Gazette, and the neighborhood was cleared of all persons except high officials of the railroad and military officials. The route to the palace was strongly guarded by troops.

The same paper states that the German emperor went to Strasbourg from Berlin on October 20 and remained all day by the bedside of the Crown Prince.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, German Minister at Copenhagen, was quoted in a London dispatch of November 6, three days after the foregoing was written, as denying categorically rumors that the German Prince had been wounded.

FRENCH BATTERY SHELLING CATTARO SILENCED.

Retreat from Russian Poland is Explained as a Strategic Withdrawal Before Superior Numbers, but Car was Slow to Follow up His Advantage.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—A wireless dispatch from the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Office received at the Embassy here late today announced that the siege of Cattaro had ceased with the silencing of the French battery.

The dispatch also explained the retreat of the Austro-German armies in Russian Poland as a strategic withdrawal without battle before superior numbers.

The message was as follows: "The German and Austro-Hungarian forces retreated without having delivered battle in Russian Poland after numerous days of fighting, which followed slowly without pressing this strategic movement. Presently is again besieged."

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Nov. 16.—Many people who for one reason or another do not yet desire to have some real part in the movement inaugurated by the Chicago Tribune and the Los Angeles Times, wrote to the War Orphan Bureau last week asking that they be allowed to contribute to the fund which is being raised for the adoption of war orphans.

The number of people who wrote to the War Orphan Bureau today of their desire to adopt one or more of the children from the war zone was much greater than on any single day since the bureau was organized. In addition, word was received that a number of newspapers in various parts of the country were receiving many applications from generous people in their locality.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 16.—The Russian advance in East Prussia, according to advices received here from the front, is being assisted materially by cold weather, which enables the troops to move more rapidly.

Relief societies in Petrograd and other Russian cities are sending every effort to collect woolen garments. Dummies clothed with the uniforms of captured Germans are placed to attract attention.

Here and there on the streets small tables are set up for the receipt of contributions and the distribution of war literature.

Dispatches to Petrograd papers indicate that the Russian army is making slow progress along the line which extends from the River Warthe across the Vistula to the southern frontier of East Prussia, fifty miles west of Thorn. The new front extends over a distance of 360 miles from the River Warthe to the extreme northeastern section of East Prussia. The German right wing now occupies the line of the Vistula.

BOMBARDMENTS, LOCAL ASSAULTS.

Germans Trying to Wear Out the English and French.

Allies Doubt the Efficacy of Heavy Cannonading.

Infantry Chief Suffers from Tactics Employed.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, Nov. 16, 9:35 p.m.—The official press bureau has issued the following account, dated November 16, of the movements of the British force and the French armies in immediate touch with it:

"In describing the operations for the six days from November 4 to 9, it can be said that during that period the Germans have nowhere along their front made any attack in great force such as was launched against Ypres at the end of October. What they did was to make a series of attacks, which they called 'tactical' attacks, to be to wear us out by a continual bombardment interspersed with local assaults at different points."

"As regards their artillery attacks, which have now continued without cessation, it is to be said that as to when this prodigious expenditure of ammunition will cease, for it has not produced the desired effect of breaking the defense in preparation for an advance of their infantry."

"The chief sufferers have been the chief sufferers from the tactics employed. On Wednesday, November 11, the British force was engaged in a tactical attack on the German line at Ypres, but their effort bore no resemblance to those which preceded it. After their repulse, the British force was driven in force to a second attack, but this time the force was engaged in a tactical attack on the German line at Ypres, but their effort bore no resemblance to those which preceded it."

Bible Lectures Tomorrow.

Mrs. B. E. Bassford will lecture on "Methods" at the meeting of the Graded Union of Sunday-school Teachers in Berman Hall, tomorrow morning at 9:45 o'clock. Mrs. J. S. Norvell will speak on "God's Wonderful Pictures of Grace."

"Co-operation" Their Topic.

Roger M. Andrews, president of the Rotary Club, will deliver an address on the subject of "Co-operation" at a dinner to be given this evening by the Los Angeles Fire Underwriters' Association at the Clark. Several other speakers will discuss the same subject informally. R. B. Stevens, president of the association, will be toastmaster.

Run Down; Seeks Damages.

Col. Thomas Fitch, who was run down by an automobile and badly injured, filed suit against A. J. Courson, owner of the machine, yesterday. Damages of $1000 are asked. Col. Fitch alleges that he was struck while crossing Spring street, near First, November 20, 1913, and thrown. He sustained a bruised right knee and ankle and his back was wrenched and bruised. The injuries disabled him for eleven weeks.

Retired; Bankrupt.

John Biedebach, who refers to himself as a retired merchant living in Pasadena, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, yesterday. His debts consist entirely of notes on which he is joint endorser and amount to $2245. His assets come to $5015. But in the latter is included a home valued at $4000, which has already been home-steaded upon. It is alleged that the debts represent a number of experiments in grubstaking several mining enterprises, that the signers, other than Biedebach refused to pay their share of the indebtedness.

Venice May Bar Buses.

Unless the Pacific Motor Coach Company buses give continuous service to Venice, to and from Los Angeles, they will be denied the privilege of running into Venice. This decision was reached yesterday afternoon by the Venice City Trustees, when a resolution was discussed to that effect. City Attorney Hanna says the motor buses are taking away the Pacific Electric's business, and if the city of Venice, and in fact, the whole bay district, is to get a reduction in fares from the State Railroad Commission, the full income of the railway must not be divided. If the buses do not give the regular service they will be barred from entering that city.

WOMEN DENIED RELEASE.

In the case of Frankie Whitman and Nellie Allen, whose release was sought on a writ of habeas corpus, Judge Wellborn denied the petition yesterday in the United States District Court, and they will come up for their third trial next week. They are jointly charged with their husbands N. Ernest Whitman and Herbert Allen, and W. H. Allen with conspiracy to conceal from the receiver in bankruptcy the assets of the Sunset Grocery Company. In two previous trials the jury disagreed. The plea for the release of the two women was made on the ground that they could not conspire with their husbands, but they are also charged with having conspired with W. H. Allen.

—and the Worst Is Yet to Come

GROWING WEAKER IS DR. BURDETTE.

The only perceptible change in the condition of Dr. Robert J. Burdette is that he continues to grow weaker. Physicians believe that the span of his life is marked only by hours. Members of his family last night stated that he may be conscious at times when they are not aware of it, as he is too weak to let it be known if he is.

OIL COMPANY FEUD RESUMED.

DISSENTING ELEMENT IN NATIONAL PACIFIC AGAIN APPEARS.

A feud which a year ago caused a dissenting element to appear among the stockholders of the National Pacific Oil Company has broken out again. As was the case last year, it centers around the annual meeting of the company, which this year will be held December 14, when the directorate of the ensuing year will be elected.

S. H. Ellis, a member of the Stock Exchange, who last year appeared as the principal leader of the revolt in the ranks of the holders, has sent out a letter to a number of stockholders charging inefficient management and soliciting proxies. He refers to a letter he sent out last year, and then states that conditions which he described at that time have remained unchanged, and that there has been no improvement in the company's position. "You have paid 3 1/2 cents per share in assessments, and the value of your stock on the market is 3 1/2 cents," he says.

The contention of the management is that the company would be in excellent shape were it not for the fact that it is prevented from selling its oil by the conditions governing withdrawal suits. "If the company could dispose of its stored oil and secure the proceeds from royalties which are now tied up in escrow it would have a balance of about $50,000," said H. Edwin Moore, president. "The conditions which Mr. Ellis ascribes to inefficient management are due to the inability of companies in our position to dispose of their oil under the present restrictions, and also to the general conditions of the oil business."

The annual financial statement of the company shows royalties due and values of oil on hand, with cash on hand, to total over $60,000. The cash on hand appears as less than $1000, while nearly $2000 is due for October.

SLASHED HIS WRIST.

Man Seeks Release From Forced Marriage by Attempting to Take His Own Life.

Slashing his left wrist with a safety razor blade, following a quarrel with his wife, Pat Morgan, 25 years of age, of No. 517 West First street, early last night attempted to take his life, but was discovered in an unconscious condition in his room and taken to the Receiving Hospital, where, according to the hospital surgeon, he will recover.

At first refusing to give the cause for his rash action, Morgan at last told a story of family trouble, which, according to him, began on August 12, when he was married in Judge Taft's court to a delinquent juvenile. Mr. Morgan declared last night to the police that he has never lived with his wife, and that she has many times attempted to force him to give her money. According to his story he never wronged the girl and was forced to marry her after having been tried for something he never did.

Last night, while walking near First street and Bunker Hill avenue Mr. Morgan says he met his wife and told her that he was about to file a divorce suit. The girl, according to him, declared that if he did she would start a counter suit. Following the quarrel he slashed his wrist as the way out of his troubles.

Exponent of Self-help for Belgium.

Hon. Henry Lane Wilson.

Former United States Minister to Belgium, who left yesterday for the East, will bring to the attention of philanthropic capitalists the great project to colonize parts of the Southwest with Belgians. This photograph was made at the Santa Lake train was leaving the station.

For Humanity.

WOMEN RESPOND TO CALL OF SUFFERING BELGIANS.

Society Leaders, Club and Charity Workers Form an Auxiliary to Chamber of Commerce Relief Committee and will Begin Solicitation Today—Whole Southland Aroused to Needs of Littlest Kingdom.

RESPONDING to the call of the suffering millions of Belgium, society leaders, club women and charity workers met yesterday morning in the directors' room of the Chamber of Commerce and effected a permanent organization as the Women's Auxiliary of the chamber. Belgian Relief Committee to take up the work today of soliciting the Southland for foodstuffs to save the starving.

Mrs. Caspar Whitney, who has been taking a prominent part in the relief work, was chosen chairman of the auxiliary, while Mrs. Frank A. Gibson, Mrs. W. J. Chickering, Mrs. W. J. Rodman and Miss Mary Fox were named as members of an Executive Committee to devise ways and means of enlisting the aid of all women's organizations in the work. This committee will probably be increased to seven today.

Official Estimate for 1915.

FORTY-FIVE THOUSAND CARS OF CITRUS FRUIT.

CALIFORNIA'S citrus crop for the season 1914-15 was estimated at 45,000 cars yesterday by General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. Mr. Powell's estimate is based on crop reports furnished the Exchange by the 150 shipping associations of the State.

The estimate shows the anticipated falling off in production compared with the record-breaking crop for the season just closing, but assures a production rather above the average year. With some oranges and lemons still to move, the total production for the season 1913-14 is placed at 48,233 cars.

North of the Tehachapi, Mr. Powell estimates a crop of 6340 cars. For Southern California the estimate is approximately 39,000 cars, or about the average production.

CALLS ELECTION FOR CITY MANAGER PLAN.

Council is to Place Charter Amendments Before People Last of December.

Agrees Upon Scheme to Abolish Commissions and Boards and Place Business Head Over All Work, with Directors of Departments Aides—Borough System for Annexed Territory Also to be Voted Upon.

A COMPLETE revision of the city manager plan, with a city manager and efficiency plus as the dominant note, will be proposed to the people of Los Angeles by the Council either today or tomorrow, when a charter amendment election is called for December 28.

The Council, heads of city departments, the City Attorney and Efficiency Commission yesterday outlined a tentative program which, in the main, will be carried out by the City Council in launching the movement. The Council will propose to the people probably ten amendments to the charter. The date of December 28 was agreed upon because it is the last Monday in the year and the election must be held prior to the convening of the Legislature, which must approve the affirmative action of the people.

Some of the proposed charter amendments agreed upon, and which will be incorporated by the Council in the call for the election, follow:

GREAT CHANGES.
A centralization of power, through department directors and a city manager, in eight Councilmen and a Mayor who is to be president of the Council, elected by the people; the city manager plan to displace with all charter-made commissions and boards and set up directors of departments in place of them; the department heads to be answerable to the city manager and under civil service.

A general annexation and consolidation system providing for the establishment of boroughs in annexed communities, each borough to have its own Board of Public Works to handle its own needs.

An amendment authorizing the city to grant railway franchises through park property so as to allow the municipality to give the Pacific Electric a franchise through Silver Lake Park to carry out its subway-to-the-sea project, for example, and to promote other transportation facilities where needed.

There will also be other propositions which are as yet tentative but will probably be completed in time for the Council session today. The whole program will be launched as soon as possible, as the time limit has been reached for calling an election prior to the session of the Legislature.

The most ambitious effort of the city government, founded upon a report from the Efficiency Commission, is the change in the present form of government to the city manager plan. Roughly outlined, the plan to be put before the people is this:

MAYOR A COUNCILMAN.
The election of a Mayor and eight Councilmen at large, the Mayor to be president of the Council with full powers of the Auditor, Assessor and attorney, as at present, although under a constitutional amendment voted upon at the last election the Assessor and Tax Collector of the city may be done away with in the city manager plan of tax offices. The Mayor is to appoint the City Prosecutor, Police Commissioner, the City Engineer, City Auditor and City Assessor, as at present, subject to the Council's approval. The reason for allowing the police service to remain responsible to the Mayor is one of policy, making the Mayor responsible to the people for the moral welfare of the city.

There will be eleven directors of departments, the proposed plan displacing with the City Clerk, Board of Public Works, Harbor Commission, Public Service Commission, Library Commission, Health Commission, Public Utilities Commission, Fire Commission, Playground Commission, Finance Commission and Park Commission. In place of each of these there will be a director of department.

FEW COMMISSIONS.
The only charter-made commissions allowed to exist are the Civil Service, the Police and Art commissions. The directors of each department are to be selected by civil service examination, and appointed from the list by the city manager, who is directly responsible to the Council. He is to be selected because of his capacity for handling big matters and will become the chief administrative officer of the city. He is the directing genius of the directors of departments. He will have a voice in all the discussions of the Council, but no vote.

The scheme is to create a board of directors of a corporation, the Council to be the board, elected by the stockholders (the people), and the city manager to be the responsible managing head of the corporation. The Council may remove him. He must submit annually a financial and service program as a basis for the Council to calculate the budget for the ensuing year, and must make a

Henry Lane Wilson May Head the Belgian Colonization Work.

Former Envoy to Stricken Land Presents Detailed Outline of Proposition to Bring the Homeless Nation to the Southwest—Here will Enlist Eastern Capital. Supply Ships Could Bring Back Refugees.

MENT of Belgium and her people for five years while he was in the diplomatic service as Navy Extraordinary and Consul General, Hon. Henry Lane Wilson, who has been paying a visit to the Pacific Coast, declared yesterday before departing for the East that the plan of colonization of the helpless and starving Belgians is perfectly feasible. He said he is willing to lend his aid toward the execution of the project, and as a result an effort is being made to get him to take charge of the helpful project.

Some of the colonization work has been carried out by Californians. It has been estimated that it will take the appointment of a relief ship.

THINK SCHOOL FIRE-BUG IS A RELIGIOUS FANATIC.

SCHOOL property valued at more than $200,000 has been destroyed in fire of unknown origin, and the detective is now searching for a religious fanatic who, he believes, is carrying on a mad propaganda of the torch. Four of the schools were either entirely destroyed or so nearly so that a new building is necessary.

The school department, the fire department and the police department have united in a search for the offender. Conflicting theories have been advanced respecting the origin of the fire, and many small boys have received "talking to's" that will remain as standards of severity in their lives, but not a wisp of actual evidence leading to the identification of the guilty one has been gathered.

The first that have deplored the school buildings of the city were at the Temple-street school, Sunset boulevard and Vermont-avenue school. Large street school, East Seventh-street school and the East Ninth-street school at Ninth street and Standard avenues last night were discovered in time. The fire in the latter school is the only one that has been accounted for. The possible explanation was given that the fire there may have started from the

Gentlemen:—
It is a pleasure to speak of the lovely tone of Chickering & Sons' Piano, which with its round, rich, pliable quality blends perfectly with that of my violin. An art and a craft brought to such a superlative degree as that in the creation of Chickering Pianos reflects credit upon the ambitions of Americans.

To the Chickering Piano, internationally known, I extend my congratulations.

“BIG BROTHER” IS NEW JOB AT IONE.

TO TAKE CHARGE OF NEW WORK AT STATE REFORMATORY.

Mr. Petty, whose work among the delinquent boys in the state reformatory at Ione, has attracted wide attention, has been named as the new “big brother” at the Ione reformatory. Mr. Petty is a native of California and has been in the reformatory for several years. He has been successful in his work with the boys and has been named as the new “big brother” at the Ione reformatory.

Women Respond.

that little Holland is supporting 800,000 Belgian refugees and yet the industrial life of The Netherlands is paralyzed by the conflict now swelling at floodtide along its borders.

“If we are found behindhand in offering succor to the brave people of little Belgium,” she said, “it is about time for us to cease calling this a first-class nation.”

PERTINENT.
Mrs. Whitney also pointed out significantly that a strong argument for the vote for women has been that the woman's heart is always attuned to the appeal of humanity. Concluding, she stated that California women now have a chance to prove that the argument is not a false one.

A poll of the gathering showed that practically every important woman's organization of the city and surrounding municipalities was represented. It was also decided to canvass the possibilities of placing banks for donations in schools. A suggestion was made that these banks be made in the shape of dinner pails—“let us make them full dinner pails,” said one woman. This matter will probably be decided at the meeting arranged at the chamber for tomorrow to discuss progress.

With only ten days remaining in which to collect contributions for the relief fund, which will sail from San Francisco probably on the 15th and will call both here and at San Diego, Los Angeles gave evidence yesterday that its heart has been touched.

In the ten hours the Chamber of Commerce office was open over $1600 was taken in over the counter in checks and contributions to the relief fund.

“Tell them that this money is to purchase foodstuffs and will not leave the country,” said Secretary Wiggins of the chamber.

While this money was being taken in, individuals and organizations were also responding to the appeal for help. At a meeting of the Life Underwriters' Association a ton of beans was pledged, and the following committee appointed to see if it could not be made a carload: R. J. Munna, George A. Rathbun, James L. Collins, J. F. Van Bioten, W. R. Hoekin, W. C. Shaw, William McClellan and J. F. Gunter.

Forbes Lindsay, who makes the appeal to the underwriters for the Chamber of Commerce, also expects to speak this week to members of the Advertising Club, Rotary Club and Sales Managers' Association.

An unsolicited offering was the pledging of sixteen sacks of flour by employees of the United States Indian Service. The milling interests of the city also came forward with an offer to contribute ten sacks of flour to every sack given by other interests or persons.

A CHANCE FOR ALL.
Notice was also received by the chamber from the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association that plans are now being perfected which will give everyone a chance to help. It will be what might be called an insistent chance, for the members of the association plan to do up packages of foodstuffs at cost and sell them over the counter and deliver them to the chamber free of charge.

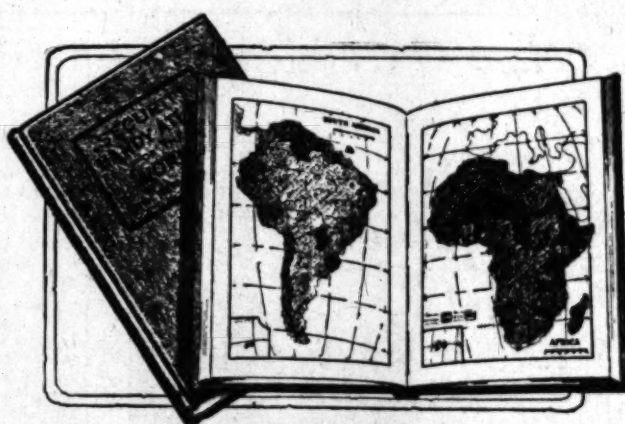

Chairman Carl McStay of the Forwarding and Transportation Committee of the chamber also reported that the Draymen's Association stands ready to pick up contributions anywhere in the city and take them to the chamber free of charge. “Simply telephone the chamber,” said Secretary Wiggins.

“That sister organizations are backing the Chamber of Commerce in the work was indicated by word from the chambers of Alhambra and San Gabriel that they are now collecting foodstuffs and will see that it gets to the plant of the Outer Harbor Wharf and Dock Company. This is the official concentrating point, through the courtesy of that concern.

In this connection the Relief Committee asks all out-of-town shippers to please hold all contributions until further notice. This is that the railroads, which have offered transportation free of charge, may send them forward in carload lots, and not in small and costly consignments.

Among the large cash contributions received yesterday by the Relief Committee were: Italian Vineyard Company, $150; Dr. Norman Bridge, $100; Mrs. A. C. Billeke, $50; Sierra Madre Vineyard Company, $50; Louise B. Castle, $25; H. S. Mudd, $20; John McClure, $20; Howard Huntington, $15.

PACKING-HOUSE BURNS.
Fifteen Thousand Dollars' Damage Done by Blaze of Unknown Origin at Cucamonga.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
ONTARIO, Nov. 16.—Fifteen thousand dollars, the loss partly covered by insurance, is the estimate today of the destruction wrought by a fire which early yesterday destroyed a large citrus packing-house owned by Gregory & Case of Redlands and situated at Archibald avenue and the Santa Fe tracks, Cucamonga. The cause is unknown.

In the packing-house at the time of the fire, and destroyed with it, were a car and a half of lemons, eight carloads of shooks, valued at $5000, and much valuable machinery. The building was worth $6000.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
 (At Home.) As if by magic, conditions in financial and business circles took great strides, and the effect was noticeable throughout the entire investment list. The opening of the reserve banks gave a sense of security to investors not noticed for many months, and the resumption of the steel mills at Gary was followed by a general betterment in business circles and an increase of inquiries for first-class investments. The business done on the Cotton Exchange in the first hour was close to the greatest in its history, while southern exchanges report good business with no liquidation. Men of affairs agree that the era of genuine advancement long wished for has at last dawned.

(Abroad.) The English government has voted a war credit of $125,000,000. The stock of gold in the Bank of England is reported to be steadily increasing.

AN AFFLICTION.

Col. Goethals signed an order making a large portion of the Isthmus of Panama dry. It is no wonder that they have trouble with the canal.

THE SAME EVERYWHERE.

A little girl named Marie Joostens remained at the telephone exchange in Louvain when the city was being bombed. Not results, her picture in all the newspapers in the world and unlimited marriage proposals.

THE WEATHER.

Isn't it the best ever? The dyes out of which they are making these days must be golden or else they are having some of the best angels dream them. They are the sort that send a fellow around whistling "The Blue Danube."

AGGRAVATING.

The habit of carrying searchlights on the side of automobiles and trailing them upon other cars should be prohibited by law. It blinds other drivers and interferes with romance. In a world where so little lovemaking is done nobody should ever discourage it.

WORTH WHILE.

Blessed be the man who kilneth a wild duck and who sayeth unto thee, "Behold my bird and the Bourdon of my private stock are now ready and at thy disposal. Enter thou into the joy of my hunt." Such a man is organized on a liberal basis. May he live forever!

JUST WAIT.

Some Californian was bragging to the son of Oliver Wendell Holmes about the climate out here and Judge Holmes replied rather stiffly that he didn't believe he would exchange one hundred years of tradition for ten degrees of temperature. He would if he caught a cold on the chest.

THE QUESTION MARK.

How much that people eat is for food and how much for relief? How much of all we hear is music or reason and how much only noise? This world certainly gets cluttered up with lots of excess baggage. It isn't any wonder that the Bible says: "Woe unto them that eat for drunkenness and not for strength."

METAPHYSICS OF MONEY.

There are some mighty good lines in the play called "Ready Money" at the Burbank this week. One of them says that people can see a thousand-dollar bill further than anything else in the world. The same man says that half of the game about money is the faith it gives a man in himself, and the other half is the confidence in him that it puts in others.

SATISFACTION FOR THE GANDER.

Certain organizations of high-sounding name and small membership which intermeddle in all city affairs are just now vociferously demanding that the city levy no tribute from the "jitney busses" which are doing a regular passenger-carrying business in competition with the street car company. These same organizations are as wildly clamoring for municipal ownership.

What we would like to know is: If the street car system of Los Angeles were city-owned, would the intermeddling organizations advocate the same liberal treatment of the "jitney busses"?

Or would they insist that the city force these independent carriers to pay a big license fee in order to protect the city's passenger-carrying enterprise?

UNFAIR TO AMERICA.

On the streets of Los Angeles Saturday evening a girl told her two escorts that she had been insulted a few minutes before. They found the man they thought guilty and beat him until he was insensible. Then the young woman discovered that he was the wrong man. He had paid somebody else's debt. The men who thrashed him apologized, but that did not save his face or theirs. A lady who represents the King of England says the United States will have to send a million dollars a week to Belgium to keep the people there from starving. We fail to recognize the obligation. One nation tramples all over little Belgium and it puts up a great fight to save three other nations. Now all four of the guilty parties want the United States to shoulder the responsibility for the despoiled country. If England, France and Russia will let Belgium starve after its heroic defense of their cause, then they are not civilized nations.

A SUGGESTION FOR PEACE.

In the ultimate analysis Russia seems to be the power most to blame for the existing war in Europe. The assassination of the Crown Prince and Princess of Austria by Serbians caused Austria to demand an investigation which it was necessary to conduct in Serbia, in order to ascertain who were the perpetrators of the murder.

Austria demanded that in this investigation Austrian officials should participate, with power to arrest and examine in Serbia all who might be implicated in the crime. There was, under all the circumstances, nothing unreasonable in this demand of Austria, and with some remonstrances Serbia was ready to signify her compliance with it when Russia interfered and forbade Serbia from yielding on the ground that this would accord to Austria undue influence in Serbia.

This, it was asserted, would disturb the balance of power in Europe. The balance of power seems to be a doctrine that weak nations have no rights that strong nations are bound to respect.

Coincidentally with the demand of Russia that Austria should practically permit the assassination of the Crown Prince and his wife to go unpunished, the Czar began a mobilization of his forces. For a nation to mobilize has but one meaning. It is that her rulers are preparing for war. The mobilization of Russia menaced Germany as well as Austria, and the two latter powers, having demanded, as they had a right to do, that Russian mobilization be discontinued, proceeded, when the demand was denied, to themselves prepare for the assault with which they were threatened. France was bound, by her treaty with Russia, to come to the aid of Russia, and war resulted.

There appears to have been no sufficient reason for England mixing in the fray, except that she was bound to do so in honor by the obligations of the Triple Alliance. But why did she enter into the obligations of the Triple Alliance? God swept His seas around the British Islands and so guarded them against invasion by any power of Continental Europe. Even the great Napoleon, although he carried the eagles of France from the North Sea to the Mediterranean, was unable to plant them on British soil. Italy did not regard the obligations of her Triple Alliance with Germany and Austria, but no surprise was felt by the world at this, for Italy has a reputation for not doing things that she has promised to do.

When is the end to come? After three months of the most desperate fighting that the world has known since the days of Xerxes, there appears to have been no decisive advantage gained by any of the combatants.

The Times, with some modest misgivings as to whether its advice will be accepted, suggests, as a basis of peace, that all the combatants return to the status in quo ante bellum; that each power return its soldiers to its own soil and reduce its army to a peace footing; that neither combatant exact indemnity in money or territory from any of the others; that each power pay its own bills and suffer its own losses, and that all five of the combatants join in indemnifying Belgium.

BADGERING THE PRESIDENT.

The Sultan Haroun Al Raschid, when things went wrong with him, when six or eight of his devoted wives went on a sympathetic strike, or when there was an unexpected shrinkage in the revenues from one of the provinces, was accustomed to disguise himself as a sailor, for in the streets of Constantinople after nightfall in search of such adventures as might fall to the lot of a wayfaring sovereign.

On Thursday last President Wilson was the recipient of a greater discrimination than ever fell to the lot of a Sultan. Unto him there came a delegation of dark-colored citizens, not to commend him for his masterly inactivity in dealing with the Mexican problem, nor yet to praise him for forcing a subservient Congress to make a $100,000,000 hole in the customs revenue. Headed by one Trotter, all the way from Boston they came, not to commend, but to criticize. They complained that Son-in-Law McAdoo and Postmaster-General Burleson and Comptroller Williams were discriminating against those souls made of fire and children of the sun who occupied desks in their respective offices. They complained that the colored folks were not located like the squares in a checker board, black and white, but were placed in rooms by themselves, or, if in the same room, were placed on opposite sides.

The President made a speech in reply that ought to be, but which for lack of a stenographer probably will not be given in full to the press of the country. He assured his colored brethren that the segregation of which they had complained had not been made for social, for sanitary, for political or for recent reasons, but merely to avoid friction between Caucasians and negroes whose dusky brows were crowned with wool rather than hair.

He eulogized the negro race. He referred to the achievements of Hannibal, of Scipio Africanus, of Toussaint L'Ouverture, of Fred Douglas and of Booker T. Washington.

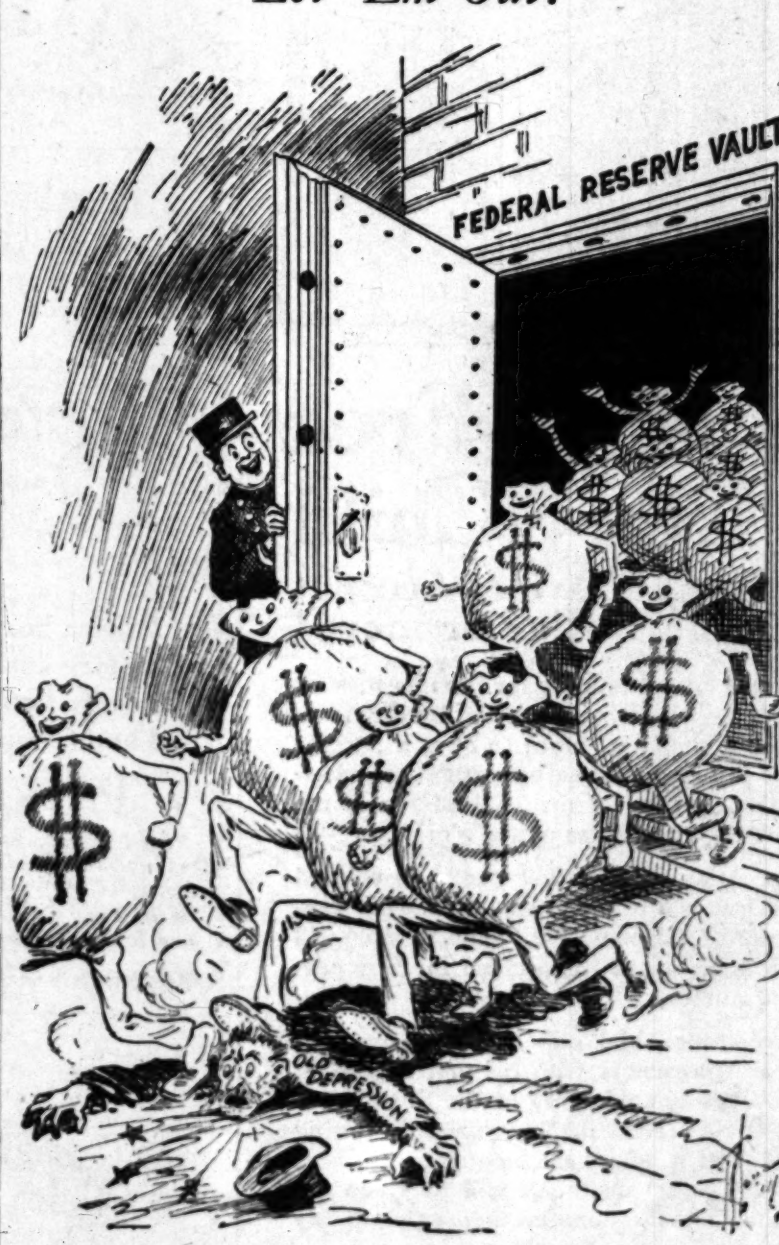

Did this address and statesmanlike explanation satisfy the remonstrants? It did not. Trotter replied in humorous tones. Metaphorically he bared his sooty bosom to the President. He said that a negro was as good as a white man and a good deal better; that they had equal rights with McAdoo or Burleson; that those rights should be respected, and that Mr. Wilson was a son of a biscuit, or words to that effect.

Then the patience of the President found its limits. He told the dark cloud that he would not discuss the matter further with them. He instructed the stenographer to drop the name of Trotter to the door and the window and told him that he and his delegation could choose either mode of exit, but one or the other they must take p.d.e.

They went. Then Wilson sighed at the thought of the black cloud that had cast its shadow across the luminosity of his career. He admitted that colored people may have made a mistake in voting for him, but they could not and should not correct it by "beating the lion in his den, the Douglas in his lair."

For three days the President sorrowed. Then he determined to do the Haroun Al Raschid act, and to do it in New York. Thither he went. He gilded it with indifferent success at the Piping Rock Club on Long Island, where his playing did not escape the sneers of his caddy. After dinner when night gathered her ebony mantle up and when with a star, he started for a stroll, wearing a pair of green goggles, accompanied by his friend, Col. House, and two secret service men at a discreet distance in the rear.

He halted at a Salvation Army meeting to listen to the music. His goggles dropped off. He was recognized. The Salvationists abandoned the cause of Christ and followed the President hellbaiting up Broadway. Two blocks further on he paused to hear a street orator eulogize Villa and cuss Carranza to a finish. Then he went to a suffragist meeting. The crowd followed, and the lady orator was howled down with cheers for Wilson.

By this time the crowd had assumed the proportions of a riot. The secret service men, with the help of the police, clubbed a path into the Thirty-fourth street entrance of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. There Mr. Wilson and Col. House debouched into an elevator and were carried to the second story. They hurried across to the Fifth avenue side, hailed an omnibus and were carried to the home of Col. House.

This principle of protection is, by the octroi duty, extended so as to protect the workers of different municipalities against each other. The Council of Paris raised the octroi duty to a prohibitory basis on all sawed and worked wood brought into the city, and the laundresses being within the city limits of Paris obtained from the municipal Council an octroi duty on all clean linen brought in from the suburbs.

Protection to home industry against competition from foreign labor is a wise policy for any country which raises its own food and raw material and which has an active home market that will consume all its manufactured products, as is the case in the United States. It may be an unwise policy for a nation which, like Great Britain, cannot raise its own food or furnish its looms with wool or cotton and other raw materials and which must look abroad for a market for its manufactures.

When peace shall be made between the warring nations there will necessarily be constructive legislation in every country, and conditions may change in the United States, but as it now appears our true policy is to return as speedily and as completely as possible to the Republican tariff which Democracy overruled.

they paid a small duty which "naturalized" them so that they became Swiss or Dutch products and as such were then forwarded to Roumania.

The cost of the long railway journey, the duty in Switzerland or Holland and the duty at the Roumanian frontier did not together amount to nearly so much as the duty demanded on Austrian goods imported directly by the Roumanians.

France within the last thirty years has become a high protective tariff nation. The duty on sheep imported into France, which was formerly thirty centimes per head, was raised to five francs; that on horned cattle from four francs to thirty-eight francs; on codfish from twelve francs to forty-eight francs per 100 kilograms; on rye from ten francs per ton to thirty francs, with thirty francs additional if the rye is grown in any country out of Europe and imported from any country into Europe.

In addition to high tariff duties France has legislated for protection on other lines. French coal can be used in the navy, and only French coals in the army, and generally nothing of foreign growth or production is bought for public use except such articles as are not produced in France.

WILSON, WOMEN, NEGROES.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

When the President received a deputation of negroes last week he became distinctly touchy and objected to their spokesman. He declared he had never before been spoken to in such a tone and with such a background of passion.

It sounded reminiscent somehow. And then he remembered. That is exactly what he said when the women suffragists waited upon him a short while ago.

So the negroes can take heart. They at least were favored with the identical sort of reception that the first American accords the American women. On both occasions he brought the interview to an abrupt close, complaining of their spokesman; on both occasions he considered himself insulted and his dignity jeopardized. Indeed, if one would draw invidious distinctions, the negro came off best. For the President did condescend to explanations in a somewhat conciliatory form to them, whereas the ladies, God bless 'em, had the interesting sensation of seeing the President turn his scholastic back upon them as he brought the interview to an end by abruptly leaving the room.

And both the negroes and the women were complaining of political discrimination against them. True, the negro already has the vote in theory, although not exactly in practice, because so many southerners have been put into office under this Democratic administration, and it takes a real pure-blooded Democrat to find official fault with his darker brother. The President explained that there had been so much friction that the segregation became necessary. There was never any friction when the Republicans held office. The white men of the Republican party never felt that horrid sense of caste defiled when a negro worked in the same office, performing the same kind of work. Indeed, he rather gave the impression of being glad that the dark man was getting on so well.

Heaven knows I hold no brief for either women or negroes. Both can be peculiarly stupid on occasion. All their traditions are against them. But it is interesting to consider the southern point of view. The negro is regarded as a threat to the white man's property, because so many southerners have been put into office under this Democratic administration, and it takes a real pure-blooded Democrat to find official fault with his darker brother. monthly report on the work in every department.

PASSING IT ALONG.
The line of responsibility is traced from the people down through the Council to the city manager, from him to the directors of departments, and then on down through the detail work of the departments to the lowest employee in the city service.

The proposition is that on the first Monday in next July, when the city administration changes, the Mayor may appoint department directors temporarily if none has been certified from the civil list.

The Council may create advisory committees for each department head so that the directors will have the benefit of advice of men who are now serving in honorary capacities for the city on boards and commissions.

The Mayor retains veto powers, except that the time for holding up an act of the Council is reduced from ten to five days. The same number of votes, two-thirds of the Council, is necessary to override a veto, but the veto of the Mayor has the effect of forcing a reconsideration.

The Councilmen must meet daily, must devote all their time to the city, and must announce hours when they will receive callers on city business.

The plan is worked out by the Efficiency Commission and particularly by Jesse D. Burks, efficiency expert of the city, in conjunction with the City Attorney, Assistant City Attorney and various members of the Council. It is said by Mr. Burks that the plan not only will increase the power of the Council, but will really centralize and set a more definite line of responsibility, in reality bringing the people into closer touch with their city government.

BOROUGH SYSTEM.
The proposed plan to establish a borough system is in line with the promises made by the Annexation Commission to the people of San Fernando Valley and other sections desirous of being annexed. The distribution of Owens River water is dependent entirely upon annexation, and the outlying sections, which have tentatively agreed to come into Los Angeles have asked that Boards of Public Works be created in the newly-annexed districts to handle local needs.

Forty per cent. of the residents in a district proposed for organization into a borough apply to the Council for the establishment of the borough system. This applies, however, only to new territory. The Council shall, if a majority in the district is favorable to borough formation, provide for the appointment or election of a Board of Public Works, consisting of a president, an engineer and an inspector, the appointment or election to be made by the borough. The duties of the board shall correspond to the duties now performed by a Board of Public Works in the city.

TAKE NONE AWAY.
The voters of the borough may add to the powers already vested in the Council, so far as the borough is concerned, but may not take away any of the powers now existing. For the financial support of the borough, upon the same basis as taxes are paid in the city, shall apportion the revenue to the maintenance of the borough, thus allowing the same proportion of expenditure in the borough on the amount of taxes it pays as is spent in the city. Thus the funds of the borough are spent upon the needs of the borough, except that portion which goes toward the general maintenance of the city government.

The borough is invested with legislative powers, to enact any legislation within the scope of police power.

The Council is undecided whether to put the amendment for proportional representation again before the people. This was defeated in 1913 by a small majority. It provides that any section of the city may vote, as stockholders in a corporation are allowed to vote, for a single candidate for Council, instead of for eight members, thus making the voting strength eight times as great for any one candidate.

The City Attorney and his force are busy whipping the proposed charter amendments into shape for the election, and expect to have them ready for the Council to pass upon either this morning or tomorrow. If the election is held December 23, the propositions will have to be placed before the people not later than tomorrow.

TO BOOST EGG PRICES.
Poultrymen of Alameda and Pasadena Form Protective Association and Accuse the Jobbers.

Believing that they are not getting a fair deal from the jobbers, the egg producers of Alameda and Pasadena have formed a protective association and plan to make a thorough investigation with the idea of advancing prices for fresh local eggs to a figure commensurate with the amount of work entailed and particularly with the increased cost of feed.

In a letter addressed to poultrymen of Southern California by a committee consisting of J. M. Wright, W. H. Ellis and J. H. Tumbach, attention is directed to the fact that fresh local eggs are selling at 15 per cent. lower this year than last at the same time despite the fact that feed is 15 per cent. higher and the production is slightly lower. They declare that unfair and arbitrary prices are being paid by the wholesalers and that if this condition is not remedied it may seriously and permanently affect the egg-producing business here.

The jobbers claim that the difference in prices is not their fault; that the retail dealers have been selling eastern eggs as fresh ranch eggs in the local market and thereby making it impossible to get the best prices for local stock; that the demand is the principal factor in making the prices and that they are not arbitrary in the quotations which are daily posted at the produce exchange on the basis of actual egg sales.

FOR LOVE OF BIRDS.
Distinguished Naturalist to Deliver Lecture Tonight at Manual Arts High School.

William L. Finley, widely known as a naturalist, author and photographer, will give a lecture on wild birds and animals, illustrated with moving pictures, this evening at the Manual Arts High School. The Audubon Society and the Cooper Ornithological Club co-operated with the Board of Education in obtaining the services of Mr. Finley.

Mr. Finley is a native of California and a graduate of the University of California. For many years he has traveled widely in the study of natural history. He has made a special study of bird life in Southern California. In his lecture Mr. Finley encourages children to love and protect wild birds. He believes that children profit from the friendship of little wild creatures. Mr. Finley has taken moving pictures of wild fowls on the Oregon coast and elsewhere.

"OLD SOLDIER" ARRESTED AS BROTHER'S DOUBLE.

Impersonated Man Dead Forty Years, Say Officers, and Would Have Got Away with it to End if He Had Not Tried to Secure an Increase of Pension.

If James W. Webber, an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, had been satisfied with the pension he drew from the government for about twenty years and not made an application for an increase under the law of 1912 he might still be getting his allowance of $5 a month and the alleged fact that he has successfully impersonated his brother, John Webber, dead more than forty years, would never have been discovered.

On May 20, 1912, James W. Webber is alleged to have made an affidavit, necessary in securing an increase of pension, to the effect that his name was John Webber; that he enlisted at Hebron, Licking county, Ohio, and served as a member of Co. G, Seventy-third Ohio Regiment of Volunteers, and was discharged from the service at Columbus, June 28, 1862.

It is declared that this record is that of his brother, John Webber, and that he is the man described as John Webber; that he never enlisted at Hebron, nor was discharged at Columbus; that he is not 70 years of age; in a word, that he has been impersonating his dead brother, who did serve his country for more than a year.

Webber was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Moore yesterday and was arraigned before Judge Wellborn, following his indictment by the Federal grand jury. He said he was in hard luck and could not employ an attorney. In default of $2000 bail he was committed to the County Jail. The count will name an attorney to defend him.

It is understood that the indictment against Webber was based on information secured from his relatives in the East. He has been an inmate of the home for a number of years. It is stated. When he applied for an increase in his monthly allowance, the pension bureau was suspicious that fraud had been committed, his relatives in Ohio were communicated with, and it was the information they furnished that resulted in his arrest.

GETS ANOTHER CHANCE.
Henry Lehrman, an officer of the Pathe Motion Picture Company, who was sentenced to thirty days in jail for speeding, escaped the jail penalty yesterday when Judge Craig ordered that the sentence be set aside and a trial given him February 1. Lehrman was arrested for alleged speeding on Sunset boulevard. He pleaded guilty because it was his third offense. Judge Craig set the sentence aside on the grounds that Lehrman was not informed of his right to have an attorney represent him and that other legal protection allowed by law was not afforded him.

Langford has Debate with Promoters.

(BY DONALD WILSON—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN DIEGO, Nov. 16.—Tham Langford, one of Boston's cultured citizens, kept some 1500 local fans waiting for an hour in a heavy fog while he attempted to pull some big league stuff on local promoters.
Sam agreed to box Jim Cameron for $1000. This was set before his manager, Joe Woodman, in the box office, but he demanded $1500, claiming he had only agreed to box fifteen rounds.
ARGUMENT.
Promoters Frank Fields and Billy Roche claimed he agreed to box twenty rounds, and Langford took off his tape and boxing shoes and put on his street clothes, finally agreeing to box eight rounds. The crowd boomed and hissed Sam, but gave Cameron a great reception.
Promoter Fields claims Sam agreed to box twenty rounds and says he has a telegram from Joe Woodman to that effect.
Bob Laga, who was on the gate for Langford, acted as referee.

SCARED.
Cameron was scared to death and refused to look at Sam as the referee gave them their instructions. He jabbed Sam at long range, but took some severe punishment to the body and head in the first round. His nose and mouth were bleeding badly at the bell.
In the second he clinched at every opportunity. He jabbed Sam with his left, but failed to close the glove. Just before the bell he slumped two rights to Sam's head.

AWFUL.
The third was a repetition replete with clinches. The crowd yelled "rotten" and "fake." Cameron had the fourth round, but took a couple of hard ones at the bell and appeared to be looking for a soft spot. He jabbed Sam in the fifth, which was even. He quit when the sixth was a minute old, claiming he broke his hand. Dr. Hicks examined him and said his wrist was dislocated.
Sam left the ring with his fat stomach wobbling like a sack of flour hanging from a rope. His stomach overhung his belt and he almost tripped on it several times during the fight. The go was a travesty and the crowd hissed as Langford left the ring. He showed very little class.

FROM THE GRAVE.
In the preliminaries Pop Elkes, 63 years old, won a four-round decision over Jimmy Quinn. Elkes was a very clever boxer forty years ago.
Bill Newby and Lanky Smith, middleweights, of the navy, went four rounds to a draw. They were trying to settle an old grudge. It was a wild slugfest.
Eddie Shannon was given a four-round decision over Jimmy Hanlon. The crowd booed and hissed. It was a perfect draw.

OLYMPIC GAMES MAY COME HERE.

FRENCH AUTHORITY THINKS THIS COUNTRY SHOULD HAVE THEM.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
PARIS, Nov. 16.—The Olympic games in 1916 may be held in the United States. Baron Pierre de Coubertin, president of the International Committee, says if any circumstances, material or sentimental, prevent their being held in Europe in 1916 they cannot be postponed until 1920, as suggested, but that they might be held in America.
The war, Baron de Coubertin thinks, will not have anything more than a brief, temporary effect upon sport in France.
Individual records will suffer because such stars as Jean Bouin, the great runner, have fallen at the front and others, no doubt, will follow. The younger element will not reach their highest form for three years or more, but eventually, the Baron thinks, the war will prove to have been an incentive to physical training.

Corona Course Opened First Time this Morning.

Eastern Drivers Arrive for Great Road Race.

Burman Under Weather Today; Out Tomorrow.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

Corona's first speed rehearsal for the 1914 season is to take place today.

There was no practice yesterday on account of objections raised by members of the school board. It was at first intended that the practice should take place in the afternoon, from 1 o'clock to 2, but as the younger school children are out before that time, it was decided that the fastest time for the speed trials was from 10 to 12 in the morning.

The first workouts of the speed creations entered for the Corona road race are to take place this morning. Each day this week, and Monday and Tuesday of next week, will see the fast pacers on the Grand boulevard tuning up the machines which will

HOLLYWOOD TRIES AMERICAN FOOTBALL.

HILLMEN FORM CLASS ELEVEN.

WILL ONLY TRY FOR GENERAL IDEA OF AMERICAN GAME THIS YEAR.

The first American football practice was held at Hollywood High School yesterday afternoon. Between fifty and sixty of the Rugby squad were out handling the American football and trying to run through signals. Coach Webster showed the men how to fall on the ball, formed a team to show them how the old game looked and gave them a few pointers on the rudiments.

Then he let the various class captains take charge of their squads and shape eleven. These ran through signals and had a general good time fooling around.
Capt. Jack Gooding and Capt. elect

"Dutch" Muller were in charge of the juniors. Gooding was stationed at full and Muller at half. The juniors had the most life and ran up and down the field. Gooding and Muller even tried a few forward passes just to see how they were worked.
Coach Webster will not attempt anything serious this fall. He wants his men to get onto the general ideas of the game. The interclass series is just to show them what the old game is like.

Hollywood High School Rugby men practice at American football. Jack Gooding, the 1914 captain, is about to throw a forward pass to Captain-elect Muller. Moore is playing quarter, while Britton is the end man.

MANY CLUBS FORMED TO BOOST AMATEUR BOXING.

Passing of Professional Fight Game Gives Amateurs the Biggest Boost They Have had in a Long Time. Several Old and New Organizations to Hold Bouts this Coming Year.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

With a membership of this kind, there would be a great possibility for a club for those who could not afford a membership in the L.A.A.C. and it could be made a big affair.

Ivan Kahn of the Naval Reserve, is also working with the members of that organization to form a large athletic club, consisting of the reserve boys and the National Guard. There are many young men connected with these organizations who would make first-class athletes, and as they are all fighters, amateur boxing would appeal strongly to them.

They also have the use of the State building drill hall with lockers and plenty of room to handle a very large crowd.
The officers of these organizations would undoubtedly fall in line with the idea and lend their assistance and encouragement to any movement of this kind, as one of the most important requirements of our State sailors and soldiers, is to have well-trained men physically.

The men who intend to organize with the express purpose of getting around the law with the four-round limit.

ED KLEPPER IS STRIKEOUT KING.

LONG TOM HUGHES AND LEFTY WILLIAMS WERE VERY CLOSE UP.

Big Ed Klepper of Venice will go down in the 1914 record book as the strike-out king of the Coast League. During the season he piled up a total of 212 strikeouts and was the only pitcher in the league to pass the two-century mark. Long Tom Hughes of Los Angeles took second honors with a total of 180 strikeouts. Skeeter Fanning of San Francisco and Dutch Klawitter of Sacramento-Mission and Oakland, tied for third honors, each with 177 strikeouts.

But whatever the record book may show on the surface, Lefty Williams will know that down below the surface the strikeout honors of the season belonged to him. For considering the number of innings pitched, Williams's record is better than that of any other pitcher in the league. Williams did not join Sacramento until June, and more than two months of the season had passed when he pitched his first game in the league. In the last five months of the season he pitched 177 2-3 innings and struck out 171 men, an average of one strikeout to every 1.43 inning. Klepper's record is second to that of Williams on the percentage basis. Klepper having fanned 212 men in 373 innings, an average of one strikeout to every 1.76 inning. Hughes fanned 190 men in 344 2-3 innings, an average of 1.85 inning to every strikeout; Fanning had one strikeout to every 2.11 innings, and Klawitter fanned one man to every 2.30 inning.

THEY ARRIVE.

The eastern drivers who are in show in the great race have arrived. Bob Burman is at the Alexandria recovering from a wrecked back. In lifting a window on the train the Peugeot pilot slipped and in falling in some way wranched his spine, and has been unable to get his car on the track for two days. Burman will not be in the practice sprints until Wednesday.

Tom Alley reached Los Angeles yesterday and went out to the Circle City last night. Alley was accompanied by the other two Dusenbergs, pilots, Eddie O'Donnell and Johnny Callaghan. The three Dusenbergs are to be unloaded early this morning and it is believed that all three will be on the course in the initial workout.

ON THE JOB.
Ed Rickenbacher, Bob Burman's team-mate, arrived in this city yesterday in company with Frank Lowry, who is to officiate at Corona as an assistant starter. Rickenbacher and his mechanic are to go out on the early train. It is doubtful if they will be able to get their car on the track for the speed work today, but tomorrow the little Peugeot will be in the rumble.

NOW PREPARED.
The Mercer team was ready for the speedway yesterday. The three cars are tuned and primed for the three

OAKLETS FORCED RIVALS INTO EXTRA-INNING DUELS.

THE OAKS may have been tallied in the 1914 race, but the figures show that they put up a tough fight. Oakland figured in more extra-inning games than any other club, winning ten and losing twelve. Los Angeles was next in line with twelve won and nine lost, with San Francisco in third place in total extra-inning games won and lost. The Seals won eleven and lost nine. No other club figured in the winning or losing of twenty extra frame sessions. Portland made the best proportionate showing, with nine extra innings.

the falling in of my window and a terrible shake. I said to myself: "It is either an earthquake or the Germans are in Paris." Not stopping to think of those bomb-dropping aeroplanes, I got up and looked out of the broken window and saw hundreds of people running down the streets shouting something in French. Well, I did not go back to bed. I stayed up and the next day we left for London. But while there I saw the French military people practicing little French boys not more than 15 years old, and it was said that inside of a month they would be shipped to the front to fight for their country.

HOT STUFF.

Paris is in darkness, but they told me it sure was a lively town before the war. Well, it would be all right for me the way things are now, for a good time; but I don't like to flirt with death. The concert halls, the saloons, everything seems to be all doing good. I was talking with a wounded English soldier who had been in several battles. He was telling me once when his regiment was taking up a position in a trench that he nearly died from the smell. He said there was nothing around him but pieces of human bodies that had been shot off by those big siege guns of the German forces.

HORRIBLE.

In the trench where he was he said it was nothing but blood six inches deep, arms, heads and other parts of human bodies, and that he nearly fainted from the sight and smell. He had five bullet wounds and said inside of a month he would be able for service again and was going back again to the front. Being in London and around England since September 12, 1914, I am able to tell you also a few things that are going on in London during the big war. The English people have not yet had the approach of a German aeroplane, but the people in London are mighty scared during the night time. London is as dark at night as Watts is in America. The street lights are painted black, so the light shines downward. The shop windows are not lighted at night. The automobiles must not have on lights on; nobody is allowed to strike a match going across the Thames River bridges. I asked, at first when I came here, what all this nonsense was for. I soon was given an answer.

"You see, my friend," said the fellow I asked, "if any German bomb-dropping aeroplanes come during the night time they will not know where the center part of the city is, also we have our valuable bridges, buildings or the King's palace destroyed by those German dogs."

But everything is running along great in London. Theaters doing good business, but they have made all the saloons close at 10 p.m. The reason for this is there have been several cases of drunken soldiers loitering around the streets at night, kicking up a row. But London is full of private clubs, and after that hour the best class of people flock in herds to these places to spend the rest of the night in a merry time.

MISSING.

I went out to take a look at the King's palace, but you can bet that he has not slept there in the last two months. It is said that he has taken up a residence in a cottage outside of London. This will be the first place and also the first Gen. that the Germans want to get. He is guarded well, you can bet, for London is full of German subjects with American passports. The English people hate the Germans and what the rougher class of the people here are doing to place the national flag is a shame. The fire companies are being kept busy. The police have no power, for the branches travel in thousands. They wreck a store in a few minutes and then march down the streets singing the national air. The sporting class of England is recruiting a bunch of young athletes together for the war and calling it the "sportsman Battalion." There will be 1100 in the bunch, among them all select people. There will be several men bearing titles. Also all of England's best athletes, some of some of the richest men bunch of rats. The moaning cries of those poor unfortunate creatures could be heard over the blasts of those big siege guns which were gradually ripping them to pieces.

This was too much for the German gunners and hundreds of them went out of their heads from the pitiful cries of those Russians.

Gee! I am glad I am American.

professional boxers, will no doubt meet with many obstacles. The great plan of the L.A.A.C. and the large membership of that club gives them a decided lead over the rest. This club intends also to further all classes of amateur athletes as it has never done before.

The immense gymnasium of the club is capable of holding at least 3000 people comfortably.

Still, if these outside clubs adhere strictly to the amateur rules, amateur boxing should receive a great boost in the near future.

A so-called middleman's club in a city of the size of Los Angeles, is something to be desired and is sure to come sooner or later. There is nothing better for amateur athletes than good wholesome, friendly rivalry, and there is no reason why each should not prosper.

The Cornell cross-country team is picked to retain the intercollegiate title at the annual race to be run at New Haven Saturday, November 21.

CAR SKIDS INTO STORE. Skidding on the wet pavement at Ruth avenue and East Fifth street late last night an automobile driven by Max French of No. 788 Gross building, spun about like a top, mounted the curb and crashed through the plate-glass window of a small jewelry store owned by I. George Arliss, the great exponent of "Dissell," may go into moving pictures!

Mr. Arliss has been invited by James L. Leaky to play his original role in "The Darling of the Gods," the leading role, which he created in the great Belasco production with Blanche Bates. Mr. Arliss has not yet made a definite decision in regard to the offer, but is considering it.

The distinguished actor stated that he appreciated the invitation, especially as the Leaky company stand for what is greatest and most artistic in the motion picture world; but his plans have been pretty definitely made for next season, and besides he felt it difficult to relinquish his idea that an actor should stand for himself to the public, smiling a little whimsical smile as he said: "Maybe I'm a bit vain, but I don't like the idea of a man with a crank running me. If he runs me too fast, won't they say, 'Oh, isn't he ridiculous!' and if too slow, won't they say, 'My goodness, isn't he slow!' However, I know how splendidly the Leaky people do their things, and I believe it possible that there are more things in heaven and on earth and in moving pictures than we've dreamed of. The field is widely different from that in which I've worked, but I'm considering it."

The Leaky company is planning the making of "The Darling of the Gods" in a spectacular manner, taking the company to Japan for many of the scenes and planning a production to rival "Cabrera."

His New Play.

Mr. Arliss has a new play in mind for next season, "Nero," written by George Edward Barton, best known as the author of the libretto of an opera known as "The Pipe of Desires," staged at the Metropolitan Opera-house a season or two ago.

Like "Dissell," the character of Nero is to be portrayed in detail, and the drama will also be like "Dissell," subjective; that is, just as Mr. Arliss suggests rather than depicts the drama of Dissell's life, so Nero will be shown.

"The story," said Mr. Arliss, "will be that of Nero's downfall, from a young man of really high ideals and a desire to benefit his people, to that which he became, through the evil influences and machinations of those around him."

The spectacular element is to have a part in the new play. All the scenes are to be laid in the domestic department of the Emperor's palace.

"It is there the man did his thinking and his loving and his hating, and these are the things that made his character. The play deals with his later youth, his manhood and death."

As "Dissell" was written especially for Mr. Arliss, so was "Nero" written for him, and in both cases the actor went over the scenes very carefully with the author as the work progressed.

Poverty Note.

While the Century Theater is buying new mural decorations and primed and things, why on earth doesn't the management chip in and buy a new typewriter ribbon? We are in receipt of a piece of paper, blank at first glimpse, save for the printed head, but on application of a stereoscope bearing traces of what appears to be typewriting, and seems to convey some ravings regarding "The Homecoming Trail."

But, of course, it may be a description of a storm at sea or a poker raid, and we haven't taken any chances. At that, however, we'll indorse the fact that "The Homecoming Trail" is a good show.

Made to Stand On.

And yesterday a big rude chorus man stopped on Beaudry's foot at rehearsal. But the small danseuse remarks cheerily that she still has one good hand and one good foot, both on the same side, and maybe, if she has to dance on these two members she can make them do!

But she seriously advises the management to take out accident insurance on the theater, as she understands to play "Louisiana, Lou!" because in that play Neal Burns has to throw her around so hard that he may break something with her!

Richmond.

The Biograph Company is sending out a special company from New York in January, to do some big films for them. Members of the management will come also to look over the ground with a view to making California the headquarters of the company. There are to be 100 in the party, and there will be dining cars and club cars and cafe cars till who cut the check.

Olve Her a Benefit.

More reports of casualties from the theaters on Friday, the 13th. Some of the Morocco scenery got restless during a rehearsal and fell down on the chorus girls, bruising two or three of them badly. Hazel Purdy got a badly strained shoulder, but went on pluckily rehearsing just the same. But if you note a strained look on the usually radiant face, don't expectantly lay it up to too late hours on the night life, but remember the bum shoulder.

Haw, Haw, Haw.

Grace Edmund, of Gaiety fame, tells a funny little tale of college life when she was at Radcliffe.

"We lived at a boarding-house near the college," said Miss Edmund, "my chum and I, and the keeper was a tartar. We loved to cook breakfast in our room, because it was quicker and we could study, and also it was strictly forbidden by the rules of the house, so we always stuffed up the keyhole so the small of frying bacon wouldn't escape, and when it fried too loud we sang to drown the noise. That one day the landlady came sniffing round and got suspicious. We were awfully hungry that morning. But she knocked and knocked and we had to let her in. 'Bacon! Bacon! What's that for?' she demanded. 'Why-why-Mabel has a sore throat,' I groveled. 'Bacon's good for a sore throat, get some!'"

STANTON HAS A BIG JOB TO KEEP HUNS ON EDGE.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

CLAREMONT, Nov. 16.—Only light scrimmage, and that by second-string men, was indulged in by the Huns this afternoon. The varsity will begin work in earnest tomorrow evening, when they will scrimmage both the scrubs and the freshmen.

The hardest problem on Coach Stanton's hands is to keep the Sageshens in condition. With three hard games in a row, he must keep the men on edge for three weeks in succession, with never a let-down. The team was not in the pink of condition Saturday, but should be in fine shape for Occidental.

Coach Stanton has seen the Tigers in action twice this season. He has seen the Trojans and the Quakers in action, with the result that their play was forestalled. He will have an entirely different defense next Saturday, suited to meet the Occidental attack. If the Huns have as strong a defense as they have shown in the earlier games this season, they should win.

Football will be the only subject for discussion on the campus this week. The Sageshens are worked up to that pitch, where they talk football, breath football, and live football. They have a score to settle with Oxy next Saturday. For two years they have seen their teams trailed in the dust by the wily Tiger. This year, they have a chance for revenge. A special train Saturday will carry the whole of Claremont to Bear Field, with not a student left at home. Stanton's team will not lack for support.

Pomona and Occidental have met fourteen times on the gridiron. Nine times have the Huns overcome the fighting Tigers, while losing but five times. For two years, the Tigers have proven themselves the superior. The Sageshens are determined not to let their fair record be longer blemished, and will go after the Tigers Saturday with a vengeance that should make the fur fly.

The counting of the money, which will be sent to the Red Cross headquarters at Washington, was just completed.

QUARTER-HOUR SPRINT PUTS FOUR TEAMS ONE LAP TO THE RAC.

(BY A. P. HUNT WEEK.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Nine of the seventeen teams still riding in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden had covered the record-breaking distance of 516 miles and five laps at 11 o'clock tonight. This was the end of the twenty-third hour of the contest and the record for this time was 512 miles six laps, established by Kramer and Moran in 1912.

Thirteen teams were bunched for the lead at 10:25 o'clock, when Mc-Namara of the Mc-Namara combination started a desperate fifteen-minute sprint, in which he lapped eight teams, four of them among the leaders. As a result of this upset the score at 11 o'clock was as follows:

Goulet-Grenda, Moran-McNamara, Foster-Hill, Clark-Root, Egg-Yerri, Lawrence-Magin, Cameron-Kaiser, Lawson-Drobach and Walthour-Halstead, 516 miles and 5 laps; Redell-Redell, Ryan-Wohlrah, Thomas-Hanley and Mitten-Anderson, 516 miles and 4 laps; Piercey-Cavanaugh and Seres-Dupuy, 516 miles and 3 laps; Kopsky-Hanson, 516 miles and 2 laps; Linart-Madonna, 516 miles and 1 lap.

SEVENTH AND SPRING STREETS
LOS ANGELES

THE $100,000,000.00 GOLD FUND

Since the outbreak of the European War, and the complete cessation of financial exchange transactions between Europe and the United States, the inability of merchants, manufacturers and other business interests owing money in Europe to have their payments transmitted in settlement of those obligations, and the inability of thousands of citizens throughout the country to remit necessary funds to friends and relatives in Europe, has been of quite as great inconvenience and regret to the debtor on this side of the Atlantic as to the creditor on the other. In many cases incredible hardship has been entailed.

In this emergency a voluntary fund of $100,000,000.00 in gold has been subscribed by the banks in the leading cities throughout this country, to which Los Angeles Banks contributed $1,000,000.00. This $100,000,000.00 fund is being deposited in a Canadian Governmental Bank at Ottawa, Canada, and by arrangement, the Bank of England will give credit on its books the same as though this gold had been deposited direct with it at its banking room in London. Thus the Committee in New York having the matter in hand will have $100,000,000.00 to its credit in London and will now be able to draw its checks on the Bank of England; in other words, to sell exchange on London to all who may need it.

This is the first important step toward reopening the usual channels of commerce. Other measures are following, and very soon nearly normal international conditions will be restored, even though the war may go on.

Thus the banks have again illustrated the useful functions which they perform. At their own expense, and for the benefit of the people as a whole, they have provided an absolutely new method for overcoming a serious difficulty. Both their resourcefulness and their patriotism have been displayed; and once more it has been proven that the banks of the country may always be depended upon for good citizenship, and especially in times when the general welfare is involved.

NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

Large Syndicate Planned. Angelenos Interested.

Los Angeles may be the headquarters of a large chain of men's clothing and furnishing goods stores in the near future, according to the plans of M. D. Herington, Jr., proprietor of the Palace Clothing Co., 323 South Spring street.

The proposed syndicate, it is understood, has the backing of local wealth and its object is the purchase and liquidation of stocks of merchandise which could be accomplished through a large retail outlet.

When interviewed, Mr. Herington was very enthusiastic over the proposition, but stated that it was absolutely necessary to liquidate his entire wholesale stock, as well as a greater part of his retail stock, in order to furnish his part of the required capital.

"Of course," he stated, "I realized there was only one way to accomplish this at once, and that was to cut and slash prices indiscriminately, but I am sure that the excellent values offered at such sensationally low prices will undoubtedly bring the desired results."

A glimpse around the store would surely convince the most skeptical that the merchandise given for the greatest value ever offered in the prices asked. It will be to the advantage of every man in Los Angeles to visit this store at once, and if he knows values when he sees them will carry away more for his money than he ever dreamed of.

The Palace Clothing Co. is well known for the high-grade and famous makes of clothing it carries, and the following prices are sufficient to convince any man that he is being offered an opportunity seldom, if ever equaled, to save many dollars on his winter clothing.

The management has now arranged to issue Travel Scrip to its patrons—"A mile for every dollar—a tenth for every cent." Clip this article and take it with you, present it upon making your purchase and receive "Travel Scrip" for the total amount. Be sure and remember the place—323 South Spring street—and the sale doors open at 8 a.m.

CLOSELY KEPT SECRET LEAKS.

Pasadena.

Prominent Girl will Become Contractor's Bride.

Wedding will be Among Big Holiday Events.

Baldwin Heir will Sell Car to Aid Belgians.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

PASADENA, Nov. 17.—Had not a little bird whispering the secret of a "tell-tale" friend, the engagement of pretty 17-year-old Rosaline Magrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hulet C. Magrath of Terrace and Alcott place, Pasadena, and Edward Paul Haupt, a young Los Angeles contractor, would have been kept a secret until Friday, when it was intended to tell the news for the first time, at an elaborately planned affair. Although the engagement is said to be the culmination of a childhood romance, it was just three weeks ago that little old Dan Magrath succeeded in eliciting from the girl the right answer.

The wedding will be solemnized December 23 at the Merritt home, and will be one of the brilliant functions of the holidays. A long list of invitations is even now being made out.

There are to be six bridesmaids, three blondes and three brunettes, but the names of only three can be given now. They are the Misses Marjorie Fleming and Louise Undergraff and Mrs. Charles Clifford Gates. Courtland Knight is to be one of the groom's attendants, and will serve probably as best man.

The news of Miss Magrath's engagement will come as a big surprise to a large circle of Pasadena and Los Angeles friends, as she has not formally been presented to society and was planning to make her debut this winter.

CAR TO FEED HUNGRY.

Touched with pity because of the tales of intense suffering being reported by the Belgians, Mrs. Anita Baldwin Magrath of Santa Anita has turned over her handsome touring car to the Red Cross.

Last summer when she was in France, the machine was commandeered by the government and was given a receipt for it. Later on, the French government decided that it would not be needed, and Mrs. Magrath ordered it shipped to New York. But when she learned of the intense sufferings borne by the Belgians, she decided to turn the car over to the Red Cross. She has been advised by the Belgian Minister at San Francisco, however, to sell it and apply the amount it brings in aiding the Belgians. This she has decided to do. The machine is valued at $5600.

PENNY LUNCH.

It was a motley flock of eighty Mexican youngsters, ranging from 5 years old to 13 years old, which gathered around the three tables at the Raymond-Fitzman school yesterday for the first of the noonday penny lunches. A large bungalow has been fitted up on the school grounds, in which the lunches are to be served. Hot cocoa, bread and butter and graham crackers made up the first lunch menu. This innovation was made possible by sympathetic people, because many of the children went to school half starving. Those who cannot pay a penny for a tree.

NEWS NOTES.

The Elk's Club, which gives an annual dance for the sake of sweet charity, will give a smart affair at the beautiful new $10,000 Mark Hall on Colorado street and Hill street, on the evening of December 4.

The mooted question of the 5-cent auto bus, recently proposed by two points. The bus men object to the ordinance governing their operations on Colorado street and Hill street, with the commissioners as to license fees. Another meeting will be held this morning.

Pasadena shipped out a large amount of gold yesterday with the opening of the Federal reserve bank at Colorado street and Hill street, each of the Federal reserve banks remitted to San Francisco 2 percent of their deposits, which will be placed in the national reserve bank there.

The attention of members of the Rose Tournament Association will be directed this week toward a membership campaign. The officers of the association have requested that 400 members secure five members each from among their friends. They expect to swell the membership to 2000 by the 25th inst.

Beginners' class started last night at the Mark Hall Dancing Academy, 333 Summit avenue. Class of new dancers will be given instruction in the ballroom and in the modern dances. November 18. For invitations to regular Thursday evening hops and instruction call on Col. J. H. Schaefer, 1000 Broadway, Los Angeles. Advertisements.

INSANE WOMAN GONE.

Gets Out of Hospital Soon After She Is Captured in a Sensational Desert Chase.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 16.—Edith Ervine, the demented woman picked up on the desert north of Barstow Saturday night and brought to the county jail, was formerly occupied by the institution and has not been heard of since. She was scantily clad when she left, according to the hospital authorities.

The woman apparently was laboring under the delusion that she knew of enormous wealth cached within the old abandoned Copper City mining section, miles north of Barstow, and that place which was headed for the police.

There is fear for her safety, for she is believed to be desperately insane. The physicians were observing her mental condition when she escaped.

RAN ON DICE.

OCEAN PARK, Nov. 16.—According to the City Council's action of today, the card game of dice will be prohibited, for a special ordinance was passed yesterday which prohibits the dice gambling games on the pier and in the plaza.

San Gabriel Workmen Cause Excitement by Digging up Ancient Graveyard.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN GABRIEL, Nov. 16.—Workmen employed by the Pacific Electric on some reconstruction work unearthed a skeleton yesterday morning while making some excavations in front of the old mission, that created a sensation.

There were a large number of tourists in the neighborhood, who had come to the vicinity on an excursion, and the discovery of the skeleton created great excitement when it became known that the remains were without doubt those of an adult Indian and were in an excellent state of preservation.

Shortly after, the bones of a little child were unearthed, and the finding of the skeletons was the source of much speculation of the part of the visitors, and many citizens were drawn to the spot by the excitement which prevailed. It is said that the place, where the skeletons were found, was once an Indian burial ground.

Long Beach.

"Social Vagrant" Case Held up; Juror Ill.

Chief Witnesses for State Mysteriously Gone.

Are They Hiding in Fear of Convicted Men?

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 16.—A crowd of several hundred persons surged in to and around the City Hall today to get seats in Police Judge Hart's court, where H. N. Lowe appeared for trial on the charge of "social vagrancy." They were disappointed when Judge Hart was forced to adjourn court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock because of the illness of one juror, R. H. Martin, who, according to the affidavit of Dr. T. C. Donnell, is suffering from acute intestinal inflammation.

A new venire of fifty men was issued, and it is expected that the entire morning will be given over to the selection of the extra juror. It will be difficult to find a man in Long Beach who has not read The Times' exclusive account of the scandal and who has not already formed an opinion of the thirty-one men arrested.

A sensation developed this morning when it was found that the two principal witnesses for the State, Special Officer William Brown and Deputy District Attorney O'Connell, were missing.

O'Connell searched in vain for his men and Brown, who was supposed to be in the city, was nowhere to be found.

The first witnesses to go on. The illness of the juror relieved the tension, and the trial was delayed to find the men who told of the "606" club and the secret indelible mark.

Several of the spectators who jammed the courtroom paid a dollar to early-comers for seats, among them being C. Cowley, a well-known resident. Those who profited by their foresight in coming to court Friday morning to the Council chamber did not refund the purchase price of seats.

WHITTIER GIVES TO RELIEF WORK.

San Bernardino.

ARMY OF HOBOES SEIZES TRAIN.

Rides in Style Till Met by Clubs of Police.

Jail Overflows with Mob of I.W.W. Tourists.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

WHITTIER, Nov. 16.—Funds for Whittier's contribution for Belgian relief work are now coming in rapidly. Sunday several churches took special offerings for this purpose, and these, together with the fund raised by the school children, swelled today's total. The fund thus raised will be expended for food under the direction of a special committee of the Whittier Chamber of Commerce, and the food thus bought will be delivered at the wharf in San Pedro for the California relief ship. The Chamber of Commerce committee will expend the local funds day by day, as it is believed a maximum of food value can be supplied this way. "Buy a bag of beans for the Belgians" is the slogan adopted, and several tons of this nutritious food will be sent from this city and vicinity.

Burglaries have been few and far between here lately, but Sunday evening two house robberies were reported. The home of Chart Landreth, No. 247 North Newlin avenue, and the home of J. E. Ashton, No. 303 West Hadley street, were entered. At the latter place it is reported the thieves got no cash for their work, but at the Landreth home they secured loot to the value of $150, mostly jewelry and clothing. From the fact that both the burglaries occurred about the same time it is believed the same man or men did both jobs.

HEAR "HOBBIER BURN."

Students of the Whittier High School and several friends heard Rev. James H. McLaren of Pasadena today in a lecture hall and an impression of Robert Burns, Rev. McLaren is himself a Scotsman, and appeared wearing both Scotch costume and "burr." The latter part of the programme was given as Burns himself, while the first part was a lecture on the great Scotch poet.

San Bernardino.

ARMY OF HOBOES SEIZES TRAIN.

Rides in Style Till Met by Clubs of Police.

Jail Overflows with Mob of I.W.W. Tourists.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 16.—One hundred and three hobos took possession of a Salt Lake freight train on the desert last night and forced the crew to bring them here.

The right of way was cleared and the train rushed through and delivered the frowny mob to many policemen armed with clubs.

Tonight the jail is overflowing with eighty-three prisoners. Twenty of the raiders escaped.

Most of the itinerants, of I.W.W. persuasion, came originally by way of Milford, Utah. Later they moved to Las Vegas, N. M., and were run out after mobilizing. Then they started winging their way to the sunny Southland by small detachments.

Unfortunately, their itinerary was well known to the Salt Lake trainmen and the alighting of one of their number on a train was the signal for warfare.

As a result of this difficulty, a concentration camp grew up at the little desert town of Ojus. The commissary of the place was sorely taxed. Resistance by the townpeople was routed. Then, the motley crew filled a restaurant and dined at the expense of the proprietor.

Then, Sunday night, they boarded a slow-moving freight and the motley crew to pull out for this place. They broke the seals of boxes and converted them into "door-door Pullmans."

But they did not reckon on Special Agent Bright of the Salt Lake, who was on the train. The motley crew, however, he opened up with a fusillade directed directly about a foot above sundry tumbled heads that projected from open boxcar doors. Thereafter the heads stayed inside.

A telegram dropped off at a little mountain station, telling of the proper moment he opened up with a fusillade directed directly about a foot above sundry tumbled heads that projected from open boxcar doors. Thereafter the heads stayed inside.

According to Salt Lake officials, four cars were broken open, but no damage done.

The ringleader of the gang stated tonight they would plead guilty to the crime of robbing the train. The army will probably learn something about county road work for a few weeks.

MAY ALL FISH?

Company Refuses to Recognize Cancellation of Rights in Mexican Waters—Issue Warning.

(BY DIRECT WIRE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 16.—Although Gov. Aviles has issued a proclamation cancelling all fishing concessions and allowing all fishermen to fish along the coast of Lower California, the International Fisheries Company has refused to recognize the cancellation of their concessions. H. D. there will be a reckoning in the matter, in which anyone who has done any fishing without a permit will be held to account. Gov. Aviles is now at Nogales. The matter interests many San Pedro and San Diego fishermen.

South Pasadena.

BURGLAR UNSEEN, BUT FINGERS LEAVE PRINT.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

SOUTH PASADENA, Nov. 16.—Finger print experts from Los Angeles and Pasadena have been called to the assistance of South Pasadena police, to see if they can identify a house burglar who left his finger prints on a window which he broke in between Thursday and yesterday afternoon. The thief used a pass key and among articles missed are some valuable old coins and heirlooms that are priceless.

Mrs. George Sanford, No. 1111 South Hope street, reported to the police that a marauder had stolen from her front porch, trailing ferns, potted palms and ferns.

The Harbor.

NOB HILL CUT TO OPEN BIG WATER-FRONT TRACT.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Nov. 16.—Thirty acres of valuable land owned by the Pacific Coast Steamship Company will be opened to the water front as the result of the action of the city in cutting the harbor boulevard through Nob Hill. E. C. Ward, general manager of the steamship company, who called for his specting the property and the facilities of the company in Southern California, stated that the company will grade the property down to the level of the water front when the balance of Nob Hill is taken down.

Access to the property is now cut off by Nob Hill. A part of the thirty acres is on the hillside and a part is Happy Valley behind the hill. The property has a frontage of 450 feet on the inner harbor channel, which is under lease to the San Pedro Lumber Company.

Grade stakes are now being set by the City Engineer for the harbor boulevard through the hill. The new road will also run through the property of the steamship company along the right of way condemned by the city. Along part of the way there will be a fill of nearly ten feet, while the rest of the hill the cut in place will be sixty feet.

The contract for the grading alone awarded to W. P. Hewitt & Co., of Los Angeles, amounts to $77,000. This will be paid from the harbor bond funds. Work will begin in a few days at the north end of the boulevard, where it will be necessary to make a short cut through the east end of Barton Hill before the hill is made between Barton Hill and Nob Hill.

Mr. Ward is a strong advocate of reducing street grades and cutting down hills. He has lived in Seattle for many years and says that the cutting down of the hills there has been a great improvement.

E. L. McNoble, acting superintendent at San Francisco, and P. E. McDonald, general agent at Vancouver, who are making a round trip on the Congress, were also north-bound passengers today. Every agent of the company is to make a round trip on the new steamship Congress as guests of the company in order to become more familiar with the attractions at points to which tickets are sold.

Improved Sentiment Spreads to General List.

Demand for Investments is Greatly Increased.

(BY P. M. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Inauguration of the Federal reserve system and the formal reopening of the cotton exchange and the curb market have resulted in a financial district today in which all accounts, the new banking were put into effect at all of the regional centers with a minimum of confusion. The importance of this undertaking may be seen from the fact that the new exchange has a capital and surplus of $1,750,000,000, and deposits of $1,750,000,000.

New conditions found in the market not only in improved sentiment, but in an increased demand for securities at prices generally higher than those recorded since last in the unofficial market. Active stocks were quoted at figures close to the final prices of the exchange in bonds and notes reported in the "over-crowded" market. Recently, and orders from out of the market were declared to be in greater demand.
